Wall Street Speculators Attempt to Interpret the Market.

Fluctuations Caused by the News from Washington - Indianapolis Grain Flat and Unpromising.

At New York yesterday money on call was easy at 1 per cent., closing at 1 per

Prime mercantile paper, 31/2051/2. Sterling exchange was dull, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86\\@4.86\ for demand, and at $4.85@4.85% for sixty days; posted rates, $4.86@4.88; commercial bills, $4.83% @4.84. Silver certificates, 65c. Bar silver closed at 66c per ounce; at London, 30%d. The total sales of stocks amounted to 217,600 shares. The feature of to-day's stock market was the speculation with Sugar shares, which were actively traded in. A selling movement was organized at the opening of business, based on the belief that the tariff debate in the House would demonstrate that the sugar refiners had little to hope for in the way of protection. The first price made showed a break of 21/2 in Sugar preferred and 1/8 in the common, followed by a further decline of 1/2 in the latter. Insiders then began to buy and a recovery of % was made in the preferred and 1 per cent. in the common, which induced a fresh drive on the part of the short interest, specially directed against the common, which receded 14, the preferred dropping 1/2. The debate in Congress not taking the turn anticipated, being devoted mainly to the bounty question, the bears grew frightened and began to cover their purchases, supplemented by other buying, rallying the common 1%, and the preferred 1/2, with a final reaction of 1/4 in the former. The loss on the day was 1% on the preferred and % on the common. The general list was weak at the opening and a fraction lower, except for American Tobacco, which was down 1%. London was in the market as a seller of St. Paul, Atchison, Louisville & Nashville and Union Pa-fic, and the London market for American securities was weak, assisting the depression in this market. The early trading was heavy, but, some good buying orders coming in from the West in Chicago Gas, from Philadelphia in the grangers, and from Boston in Atchison and General Electric, the temper of speculation underwent a change and prices generally recovered the early loss, while in some instances a higher. range of quotations was established, notable in Chicago Gas. which had receded only % and sold up 14. Evansville & Terre Haute advanced 1 and the general list 14@ 1%. the grangers being prominent in the rise. A slight reaction followed before 11 o'clock, mainly due to the dullness which prevailed and the lack of supporting orders. Louisville & Nashville showed most weakness, recording a total decline of 1 per cent. from Saturday's prices. During the succeeding hour and a half the market was firm on a small volume of business, and values appreciated %@1 per cent., except for New York, Chicago & St. Louis, which fell off 1 per cent., but subsequently recovered the loss. A brief period of depression about 10:30 a. m. was followed by an upward turn, in which the specialties were most prominent, and later by a decline which was led by Rubber, Rock Island and Canadian Pacific. After delivery hour the speculation again became firm and held this tone to the close, the final sales being made at an advance on the closing figures of Saturday in a majority of instances, the most notable of which are 1 per cent. in New England, Illinois Central, Louisville & New Albany, Kansas & Texas, Oregon Improvement and Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic; 11/4 in St. Paul & Duluth; 11/2 in Colorado Fuel and Iron, and 11/4 in Norfolk & Western preferred. The shares which show the most marked decline are Rubber, 134: Pullman, 14, and American Tobacco and Colorado Coal and Iron, 1 per cent.

The railway and miscellaneous bond market was a shade easier during the morning, was strong throughout the afternoon and to the close. Government bonds were strong. State bonds were inactive. The following table, prepared by James E.

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

A Pretty Winter Day Helped Business -Sugars Firmer and Poultry Lower. Trade was quite active on the wholesale streets yesterday, the pleasant winter day and the fact that stocks of the retail merchants are low contributing to such a result. Poultry is lower on large receipts and light demand. Eggs advance 1/2c with the more reasonable prices. Eggs are not so much of a luxury, and they are coming more into daily consumption, being now lower than at any time in many months. Grocers were quite busy. Some grades of sugars were a shade higher. Other staple groceries, except syrups, were steady. Syrups are now selling at lower figures than in many years, some as low as 18c per gallon. Cabbage is in large supply and selling from 75c to $1.50 per barrel. Sweet and Irish potatoes in good supply and prices easy. The seed market is rather quiet, clover steady and unchanged in price. The local grain market showed no im-provement over last week. The attendance on 'Change was small, bidding spiritless, and track bids ruled as on Saturday, except for oats, the better grades being 1/2c higher. Track bids ranged as follows: Wheat-No. 2, 56½c; No. 3 red, 53c; rejected, 40@45c; wagon, 57c.

Chocolate Pudding-Reserve one gill of milk from a quart, and put the remainder on the fire in a double boiler. Mix three tablespoonsful of cornstarch with the cold milk. Beat two eggs with half a cupful of powdered sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt. Add this to the cornstarch and milk, and stir into the beiling milk, beating well for a minute. Shave fine two ounces of chocolate, and put it into a small pan with four tablespoonsful of sugar and two of boiling water. Stir over a hot fire until smooth and glossy; then beat into the hot pudding. Cook the pudding in all ten minutes, counting from the time the eggs and cornstarch are added. Serve cold with powdered sugar and cream. This pudding can be poured while hot into little cups which have been rinsed in cold water. At serving time turn out on a flat dish making a circle, and fill the entire center of the dish with whipped cream flavored with sugar and vanilla. The eggs may be omitted, in which case use one more tablespoonful of Spiced Apples-A small, sweet apple like a russet is generally chosen for a spiced or sweet-pickled apple. As russets do not come into perfection until spring, a small lady apple may be used in the fall, or any very firm, sweet, small apple. Stick two cloves in each apple. Take out the flower of the apple and the stem, but do not peel it. Make a syrup in the proportion of four pounds of sugar to two quarts of vinegar. Boil the apples whole in the vinegar and sugar until they are tender enough to be pierced with a straw. Then add two ounces of cassia buds and about an ounce of whole mace. A little ginger root is an excellent addition to this spiced fruit. Put two ounces of the root, scraped and sliced, in the vinegar and sugar before you begin to cook the apples. Excellent Hash-That maligned dish, hash, if carefully made and attractively served, becomes as dainty a dish as any sent to our tables. It may consist of one kind of meat or several, but all must be freed from coarse, stringy fibre and gristle, and cut in very small bits. A cold chop, a bit of beefstake, or chicken may be used when there is not corned or roast beef. Chop the potato and meat separately, and combine them in equal parts, or in any proportion you choose. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and moisten according to quantity with stock, cold gravy, or milk. Do not add too much liquid. Heat a saucepan, put in enough butter to prevent sticking, and spread the hash flat on the bottom. Cook over the fire long enough to brown the under side, then cover and set in the oven where it will cook slowly for fifteen ininutes. When dishing, roll the hash like an omelet and garnish with parsley. Whipped Cream-A deep bowl and an eggbeater are the best accessories. Pure sweet cream, not too thick, is required and it will whip much easier if very cold, therefore a pan of cracked ice under the bowl is usually recommended. When the whipped cream is wanted very stiff a tablespoonful of gelatine dissolved in a very little milk may be added to it. For some purposes it is best to sweeten before the process begins by adding two tablespoonfuls of pulverized sugar to a pint of cream. A few drops of vanilla extract is also admissible. If the cream is cold and not mixed with milk, a fine stiff whip will be produced in a short time by the vigorous use of the egg-beater.

BULLS WERE ROUTED

An Early Attempt to Down the Bears Met with Ill Success.

Both Wheat and Corn Suffered from the Reported Heavy Increase in the Visible Supply.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.-There was bull news in wheat to-day of the kind which usually excites the habitual supporters of that side to dare the bears to do their worst. They were ready to do battle on the danger now threatening the next crop. The bears stood pat on their old and well-tried reliance, on the much-worn text, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Bull news affecting next season was ineffectual as against an eighty-million-bushel visible. Compared with Saturday's closing price, there is a decline of %c. Corn suffered from a 2,500,000 bushel increase in the visible and declined 4c. Provisions were strong and higher on lighter receipts of hogs than had been

Wheat surprised some people at the opening by the strength it displayed. Not that there was anything in the early news of a bearish character, for quite the contrary was the case, but there has been a settled conviction among a large contingent of the speculative operators that wheat was dead, and the signs of life it gave this morning raised a protest. Higher cables and prediction of a cold wave were the strong features early in the session. The opening was about 14@1/2c higher than Saturday's closing figures, and, after holding fairly steady for awhile, became weak, and prices declined %@%c from the top figure reached, then ruled-more quiet, and the closing was about %c lower than on Saturday. May opened at 654c and decline irregularly to

The corn market was very dull, but the price rather favored the bulls in the forenoon, with the tendency in the other direction later in the session. The receipts were less than the estimates, but the increase in 9c; 16 lbs average, 9½c; 12 lbs average, the visible supply was heavier than was 10%; clear backs, 20 to 25 lbs average, 10c; satisfactory to holders. Business was very dull, with ten-minute intervals between trades in the middle of the session. May sold sparingly at 38%c, and gradually declined, closing at 381/sc. Business in oats was quiet and confined almost entirely to local dealers. There was not much disposition on the part of holders to sell, and the tendency to buy was even smaller. Prices opened firm and sold off in sympathy with the larger markets. At the close the low prices of the day were made. May sold from 301/4c to 301/4c down to 291/4@ 29%c, which shows a decline of from %c to %c since Saturday. The provision market was well sustained at an advance over Saturday's closing prices. There were reactions in the course of the day's advance, but there was always a strong hand felt under the market on its weak spots. The day's receipts of hogs were only 26,000, instead of about 34,000 or 35,000, as expected, and the price at the yards was quited from 10c to 20c higher. That was the reason given for the strength in the provision market. The estimated receipts of hogs for to-morrow are only 20,000, and that gave additional strength to the products. May pork was the article over which the speculators fought with most activity, closing 25c higher than Saturday. May lard is .071/2c and ribs .171/2c higher. Estimated receipts for to-morrow are Wheat, 153 cars; corn, 425 cars; oats, 150 cars; hogs, 20,000 head. Leading futures ranged as follows:

heavy market for wool serves as an offset, in connection with the habit of buyers to confine purchases to actual wants, and at the present the outlook is for a quiet market. Stocks are down to so small a point, however, as to give a fairly distinct under-tone to the market. Cotton goods are holding their own, barely, as to price, owing to the weakness in raw cotton, with demand fairly active. Print cloths are quiet and possibly a shade easier, with 2%c the best bid for extras. Print cloths and printed fabrics rule quiet, except for attractive goods that fit the spring and summer requirements. Dress goods suitable for spring and summer meet with a moderate demand and other styles are neglected. Foreign dry goods are quiet but about steady. Yarns are quieter and barely steady, with demand indifferent. The jobbing trade shows some tendency toward improvement.
